Table of Contents

Preface 7

Introduction 9
  Patrick McGreery

Opening Session
Justice in a Bifurcated World 15
  Patrick McGreery
Remarks of Ms. Latifa Al Basheer 19
  (Representing HRH Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Bin Abdulaziz Alsaud)
  Latifa Al Basheer

Hip-Hop Performance
Brooklyn Beats to Beirut Streets: Growing Up Arab, Mexican, and Hip-Hop in the United States (Excerpts from an Original Stage Play) 25
  Nizar Watad, Mark Gonzales, Omar Chakaki

New Perspectives on America and the Middle East
In the Name of Homeland Security 37
  Amy Kaplan
Fissures and Fomentation:
A Critique of Neo-liberalism in the Arab World 50
  Khadija F. El Alaoui
Shifting the Gorilla: American Studies and the De-Centering of “America” in the Middle East 64
Scott Lucas

Rethinking the “Clash of Civilizations”: American Evangelicals, The Bush Administration, and the Winding Road to the Iraq War 71
Melani McAlister

Liberty and Justice 95
Dilek Kadir

Can Islam and Democracy Work? 101
Ali Hocine Dimerdji

America’s Last Taboo 108
Rethinking Orientalism in the Post-Civil Rights Era
Keith P. Feldman

Literary Encounters

The Algerine Spy in Pennsylvania 123
Tamberly Mar

Infinite Justice: The Uses of Transcendence in Post-9/11 Novels 139
Jonathan Hall

Our Ideals/Their Ideals, Our Realities/Their Realities: U.S. and Arab Writers Confront Injustice 151
Allen Hilbard

Liberty and Justice: the Pilgrims and Hector St. Jean de Crevecoeur 161
Edward J. Lynch

Collision or Coalition: Cultural In/Determinacy in Diana Abu-Jaber’s Arabian Jazz (1993) and Crescent (2003) 174
Osama Abd El-Fattab Madany

Rethinking US Policies in the Middle East

Neoconservatism’s Undivided Loyalties: A Critique of The Israel Lobby and U.S. Foreign Policy 187
Norman Finkelstein

American Interests and the Disappearing Frontier of Modernity in the Arab World: The View from the American University of Beirut 212
Waled Hashim

Poppies, Pistols and Intelligence: United States Policy towards Turkey in the 1970s 226
Jan Amsussen

A Hidden Agenda behind the War against Terrorism? 241
Andrew Vincent

US Public Diplomacy towards Iran from Cold War up to the Present 246
Javad Aghbali Rad

Negotiating Identities at American Universities

Making Men: Proselytizing at the Syrian Protestant College 261
Betty S. Anderson

Meanings of American Education in Beirut and Cairo 273
Ozlem Alatan-Olcay

International Justice: Human Rights for Whom?

Human Rights Watch and Addressing the Responsibility of Victims: The Risk of Postmodern Non-politics 289
Sari Hanafi

Cluster Munitions, International Law, and Perceptions of Justice 310
Kathleen Hamili

U.S., the MENA, the Refugee, and the Radical Crisis of Universal Human Rights and International Law 322
Bojan Pecadovc

The Power Of the People, By the People and For the People: Transnational Grassroots Movements for Justice 332
Eileen T. Landy

Walls and Firewalls: The Uses of Fear

“Another Brick in the Wall”: The US-Mexico and Israel-West Bank Borders 345
Zafar Feghali

Discrimination by Design: Data Mining in the United States Government’s “War on Terror” 353
Keith Gueck

Cinematic Encounters

The Image of America in Egyptian Cinema: A Socio-political Reading 369
Mounira Salim

Religious Alienation and Salvation in Contemporary American Horror Film 380
Pascale Fakhry
Educational Distortions

“I Want to go Back”: Educating American Children about al Awda
Marcy Newman
395

U.S. Cultural War in Iraq: Education Reforms in Iraq in the Post-Saddam Era
Azadeh Ghahghaei
411

Secularism and Religion

Secularism and Freethought in the Middle East: The American Model
Paul Jabshan
423

Islamic Law and the Modern State: Conflict or Co-existence?
Fahad A. Alhemoudi
435

American Studies in the Middle East

Iranian Perspectives on American Studies
Seyed Mohammad Marandi
447

Freedom and Justice in America and in the Arab World and the Teaching of American Studies
Tawfiq Youssef
455

How Three Moral Problems in Anglo-American Literature
Enter into Teaching American Studies to Arab Students
Rajai Al-Khani
466

Preface

The papers in this volume represent a selection of those submitted by presenters at the second international conference sponsored by the Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Bin Abdulaziz Alsaud Center for American Studies and Research (CASAR) at American University of Beirut (AUB), held in Beirut January 7-10, 2008. Although the papers were not sent out to external reviewers, the volume was internally refereed. Session chairs commented on papers in their own sessions; then an editorial committee and the CASAR Executive Committee reviewed and approved the papers for inclusion.

A generous grant from Kingdom Foundation partly funded the conference. The conference also received strong support from AUB’s leaders, including President John Waterbury, Dean Khalil Bizar, and Provost Peter Heath who welcomed the participants at the Opening Ceremony. CASAR came into being in 2003 with an endowment from Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal. He was represented at the conference by Ms. Latifa Al Busseir. The conference coincided with the first meeting of CASAR’s International Advisory Board. Several board members participated in the opening plenary session, “America and the Middle East: Where Are We Now?” These included Djelal Kadir, Stanley Katz, Rami Khouri, Scott Lucas, and Melani McAlister. Another board member, Amy Kaplan, presented the provocative closing address, “In the Name of Homeland Security.” My Administrative Assistant, Nancy Bataki, was perhaps the person most responsible for the success of the conference. Special thanks to Tomoko Furukawa for work on this volume and on all of the conference materials. CASAR’s graduate assistants—Moira Thomas, Nathalie Nahas, Dana Salbik, Le Roy Long and Nate George—and