The Prince Alwaleed Bin Talal Bin Abdulaziz Al Saud Center for American Studies and Research (CASAR) cordially invites you to a lecture entitled

A Book Launch Event

Arab America
Gender, Cultural Politics, and Activism

By Dr. Nadine Naber, University of Michigan
Wednesday, October 24, 2012 | CASAR office, Building 37 (behind the old observatory) | 5:00 – 7:00 pm

In Arab America, Nadine Naber tells the stories of second generation Arab American young adults living in the San Francisco Bay Area, most of whom are political activists engaged a Muslim global justice and a Leftist Arab movement. Writing from a transnational feminist perspective, Naber reveals the complex and at times contradictory cultural and political processes through which Arabness is forged in the contemporary United States, and explores the concepts of religion, family, gender, and sexuality as the battleground on which Arab American young adults and the looming world of America all wrangle.

Nadine Naber is an associate professor at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor in Arab American Studies, the Program in American Culture, and the Department of Women's Studies. She is an adjunct associate professor in the Department of Anthropology. She is author of Arab America: Gender, Cultural Politics, and Activism (NYU Press). She is co-editor of Arab American Feminisms (Syracuse Press) and co-editor of Race and Arab Americans (Syracuse Press).
