

The Issam Fares Institute for Public Policy and International Affairs
American University of Beirut

cordially invites you to the third event of

The Bill and Sally Hambrecht
Distinguished Peacemakers Lectures at AUB

bringing ten prominent international mediators to AUB and Beirut over the coming two years to share their experiences with the AUB community and conflict-resolution practitioners and scholars in Lebanon and the Middle East.

Robert Malley

CAN WASHINGTON

MEDIATE

ARAB-ISRAELI PEACE?

Lessons from Camp David II, the Clinton Years and beyond

5:00 pm
Thursday, October 9, 2008
Auditorium A, West Hall, AUB

Robert Malley has been Director of the International Crisis Group's Middle East and North Africa Program since January 2002. Prior to that, he was a Senior Fellow at the Council on Foreign Relations. Until January 2001, Mr. Malley was Special Assistant to President Clinton for Arab-Israeli Affairs and Director for Near East and South Asian Affairs at the National Security Council. In this capacity, he served as a principal advisor to the President and the National Security Advisor at the White House on the Middle East peace process.

Mr. Malley joined the National Security Council staff in August 1994 as Director for Democracy. He helped coordinate U.S. refugee policy and efforts to promote democracy and human rights abroad. He also played a leading role in U.S. policy toward Cuba.

Mr. Malley is a graduate of Yale University, Harvard Law School and Oxford University, England, where he was a Rhodes Scholar. He is the author of "The Call from Algeria: Third Worldism, Revolution and the Turn to Islam" and, with Hussein Agha, of "Camp David: The Tragedy of Errors," "The Last Negotiation," "Three Men in a Boat" and " Hamas – The Perils of Power".