

Readmission Form

(For students who left the University for more than two years)

- Students who have left the University for more than two years need approval of the Admissions Committee of their faculty for readmission. The Admissions Committee of each faculty may have special conditions for readmission.
- Students who were on probation when they withdrew from the University and readmitted to the Faculty of Arts and Sciences will be placed on probation for one semester and are required to take 12 or 13 credits; if they do not remove probation at the end of that semester, they will be dropped from the University.
