Type: Multinational

Industrial Sector: Audit, Tax and Consulting

Country: Manama,Bahrain

Branches: 23 Offices across the Middle East

Profile Firm: Increasingly, business, government and NGOs are pulling together to promote business, social and environmental progress. With 135,000 people in 140 countries, one of the best ways EY can contribute to this effort is through skill-based volunteering that's coordinated globally while taking account of local conditions and culture. We channel our efforts into three key areas that are aligned with our business strategy and critical to improving and expanding market economies.

- Entrepreneurship – supporting and celebrating start-up companies as they create opportunity
- Education – developing skills and broadening access to make sure the next generation has the skills it needs to make a positive impact
- Environmental sustainability – minimizing our impact on the environment
