The Center for Arab and Middle Eastern Studies (CAMES) offers an interdisciplinary MA degree in Middle East studies. CAMES’ goal is to enhance the understanding of the Middle East and Islamic civilization and to encourage informed scholarship in all academic disciplines. The MA program aims to assist students in acquiring a sound grounding in one or more aspects of the study of the Middle East and in the Arabic language. The Center offers some of its own seminars in Middle East and Islamic studies as well as a full range of Arabic language courses for non-native speakers. CAMES is an interdepartmental, interdisciplinary unit and the MA program draws on other departments to provide coursework and thesis advising for its students. To complement students’ course work and to promote scholarship about the Middle East at AUB, the Center also sponsors visiting lectures and conferences and holds occasional events such as film screenings and readings.

CAMES focuses on current methodologies and approaches in the fields of Middle East and Islamic studies. Students structure their own course of study in such areas as Middle East and Islamic history, contemporary politics, international relations, archaeology, anthropology, sociology, media studies, and Arabic language and literature. The courses and the thesis and project requirements encourage students’ critical and independent thinking and the undertaking of analytical in-depth research.

CAMES is committed to the study of the Arabic language and offers courses at all levels in coordination with the Department of Arabic and Near Eastern Languages, as well as a seven-week intensive Arabic language course in the summer.

The CAMES MA program offers a thesis option and a project option.

Thesis Option

Students following the thesis option are required to complete a minimum of 21 credit hours in courses numbered 300 and above, in addition to a nine-credit thesis. Non-native speakers of Arabic are required to complete a minimum of six credits of Arabic language study, and may take up to nine credits of Arabic. Students may take their remaining courses at CAMES or in topics related to Middle Eastern Studies at departments other than CAMES.

Project Option

Students following the project option are required to complete a minimum of 27 credit hours in courses numbered 300 and above, in addition to a three-credit project. Non-native speakers of Arabic are required to complete a minimum of six credits of Arabic language study, and may take up to 12 credits of Arabic.

All CAMES students are required to take the core course, MEST 301 Introduction to Middle Eastern Studies.
