WHO WE ARE
The American University of Beirut (AUB) is a private, independent, co-educational, and non-sectarian institution of higher learning in Beirut, Lebanon. The university is governed by an autonomous board of trustees and accredited by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education. Its degrees are registered with the New York State Education Department and the Lebanese Ministry of Higher Education. AUB is a teaching-centered research university that bases its educational philosophy, standards, and practices on the American liberal arts model of higher education. The university encourages freedom of thought and expression and seeks to graduate men and women committed to creative and critical thinking, lifelong learning, personal integrity, civic responsibility, and leadership.

MISSION
The American University of Beirut (AUB) is an institution of higher learning founded to provide excellence in education, to participate in the advancement of knowledge through research, and to serve the peoples of the Middle East and beyond. Chartered in New York State in 1863, the university bases its educational philosophy, standards, and practices on the American liberal arts model of higher education. The university believes deeply in and encourages freedom of thought and expression and seeks to foster tolerance and respect for diversity and dialogue. Graduates will be individuals committed to creative and critical thinking, lifelong learning, personal integrity, civic responsibility, and leadership.

LEADERSHIP
PRESIDENT
Fadlo R. Khuri, MD, the 16th president of the university, assumed office on September 1, 2015. Dr. Khuri was a faculty member at the University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center in Houston, Texas from 1995 until 2002. In 2002, he joined the Emory University School of Medicine in Atlanta, Georgia where he was appointed the Roberto C. Goizueta Chair in translational research in 2007. Khuri was instrumental in leading the development of some of the most important cancer-related programs in the United States and was the principal investigator on a number of National Cancer Institute grants. He is particularly well-known for the research projects he led to develop molecularly targeted therapy for lung and aerodigestive cancer prevention and treatment. Khuri has authored more than 350 peer-reviewed articles and more than 50 editorials and perspectives in leading journals. He has received many awards in recognition of his scholarly achievements including the 2006 Nagi Sahyoun Award of the Middle East Medical Assembly, the 2013 Richard and Hinda Rosenthal Memorial Award by the American Association for Cancer Research, TAKREEM’s Scientific and Technological Achievement Award in 2015, and the 2018 Ben Qurrah Award. He became a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science in 2014, a full member of the Lebanese Academy of Sciences in 2015, and a fellow of the Royal College of Physicians in 2017.
A BRIEF HISTORY

The American University of Beirut was established as the Syrian Protestant College in 1866. The college opened with its first class of 16 students on December 3, 1866. Throughout its history, the university has expanded and developed new faculties and programs. In 1867, the university started the School of Medicine. Four years later, in 1871, it added both a school of pharmacy and a preparatory school. The latter became independent in 1960 and is now known as International College.

When the hospital (currently the American University of Beirut Medical Center) opened in 1905, a school of nursing (named the Rafic Hariri School of Nursing in 2008) was also established. In the early 1950s several new programs were introduced. The Faculty of Engineering and Architecture (named the Maroun Semaan Faculty of Engineering and Architecture in 2017) was established in 1951; the Faculty of Agriculture (now the Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences) opened its doors in 1952; and the School of Public Health (now the Faculty of Health Sciences) was started in 1954. In 2000, the university, which had been offering business education since 1900, established an independent school of business (named the Suliman S. Olayan School of Business in 2003) as its sixth faculty. AUB celebrated its 150th anniversary in 2016. The Rafic Hariri School of Nursing became AUB’s seventh faculty in 2018.

“Since its founding, this university has been committed to fostering free and open dialogue, critical thinking, and intellectual curiosity. It has served as a beacon of excellence, openness, tolerance, and secularism in a region that is too often equated with the opposite. Central to these foundational attributes is creating a truly inclusive and diverse environment on our campus.”

Fadlo R. Khuri, September 13, 2018

- LEAD by producing thought leaders and community leaders with the passion and drive to effect significant and meaningful change.
- INNOVATE by keeping AUB at the forefront of groundbreaking movements and ideas in the MENA region and beyond.
- SERVE the communities around us, near and far, through outreach, research, and leadership in healthcare.

The goals of the BOLDLY AUB campaign are to:

- Enrich the educational and research experience of students and faculty.
- Serve the healthcare needs of the region.
- Prioritize innovation and entrepreneurship.
- Engage with communities in the region to achieve real impact.
- Secure the university’s long-term sustainability.

It will also secure some of the money that we will need to achieve Vision 300, President Khuri’s far-reaching and ambitious plan for AUB. The total amount raised for the BOLDLY campaign as of December 31, 2018 is $458 million.

VISION 2030

Did you know? AUB collaborated with An-Nahar to produce a special issue on September 27, 2018, laying out a roadmap for Lebanon.

President Khuri’s vision is of a university that is defined by its liberal arts ethos in education, excellence in research, compassionate medical care, and an abiding commitment to Lebanon and the Arab world. It is a vision that embraces the values that have made AUB great and ensures that we will be able to continue to lead, innovate, and serve for generations to come.

Students are at the heart of Vision 3030. AUB is strengthening its undergraduate education curriculum and student support services (including psychological counseling and career services), putting even more emphasis on the liberal arts, and introducing a completely new general education program emphasizing the humanities, technology, and service.
The university is also investing in its campus facilities so that AUB faculty and students have the tools and resources they need for innovative research. In addition to renovating some of the legacy buildings on upper campus, AUB is also planning to build new, state-of-the-art facilities. (Images of four of these buildings are featured in this publication.)

“We can and must model a fair, just, pluralistic society at AUB, one that serves as an example for Lebanon and the Arab world. Only when we achieve this can we have a truly global impact.”

Fadlo R. Khuri, January 25, 2016

AUB’S STRATEGIC HEALTH INITIATIVE: HEALTH 2025

In his inaugural address as AUB president in January 2016, President Khuri outlined Health 2025: an inspiring vision for the AUB Medical Center. The goal of this strategic health initiative is to affirm AUB’s commitment to be the regional leader and a key global partner in addressing global health challenges.

To meet this global challenge, the university is strengthening organizational and functional linkages among all AUB units engaged in health, especially the core health units of medicine, public health, nutrition, nursing, and AUBMC.

Another key component of Health 2025 is the establishment of strategic partnerships with local, regional, and global stakeholders who share the university’s dedication to public service and innovative research to enhance health in local communities and worldwide. AUB is partnering with organizations such as the Arab Forum for Environment and Development (AFED) and the UNDP to promote and help to achieve the UN sustainable development goals (SDGs) in the Arab region by 2030.

Health 2025 builds on the enormous success of AUBMC 2020, which was launched under the leadership of Dr. Mohamed H. Sayegh, executive vice president for medicine and global strategy to position the AUB Medical Center as the leading medical center in the region.

AUBMC 2020 VISION

In June 2010, the AUB Board of Trustees approved the AUBMC 2020 Vision. At the heart of this vision is our pledge to provide world-class care to the people of Lebanon and the region and to establish the first global health sciences campus in the region. The AUBMC 2020 Vision is being pursued along six paths:

- Providing patients with the highest standards of patient-centered care.
- Recruitment of top-caliber, highly specialized, and accomplished faculty.
- Academic innovation through the creation of clinical and research centers of excellence, and the provision of outstanding medical education.
- Establishment of strategic partnerships and collaborations locally, regionally, and internationally.
- Investing in and expanding our facilities to meet the needs of the people of Lebanon and the region.
- Supporting the health of local and regional patients in need by ensuring their access to care.
AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF BEIRUT MEDICAL CENTER (AUBMC)

www.aubmc.org

Mohamed H. Sayegh, MD, Executive Vice President for Medicine and Global Strategy

AUBMC is an academic medical center dedicated to the passionate pursuit of improving the health of the community in Lebanon and the region through the delivery of exceptional and comprehensive quality care to our patients, excellence in education and training, and leadership in innovative research.

The AUB Medical Center is the private, not-for-profit teaching center of the Faculty of Medicine. The 365-bed hospital offers comprehensive tertiary/quaternary medical care and referral services in a wide range of specialties and medical, nursing, and paramedical training programs at the undergraduate and post-graduate levels.

AUBMC is the first medical institution in the Middle East to have earned the five international accreditations of Joint Commission International (JCI), Magnet, College of American Pathologists (CAP), Joint Accreditation Committee for EBMT and ISCT Europe (JACIE), and the Accreditation Council for Graduate Medical Education - International (ACGME-I) attesting to its superior standards in patient-centered care, nursing, pathology/laboratory services, and graduate medical education.

ADMISSIONS AND FINANCIAL AID

ADMISSIONS
www.aub.edu.lb/main/admissions

The American University of Beirut seeks students with demonstrated academic achievement and promise. The university admits students regardless of race, religion, gender, or disability.

FINANCIAL AID
www.aub.edu.lb/faid

AUB’s Financial Aid Program has grown dramatically in recent years, from around $14 million in 2010–11 to $32 million in 2017–18. The university believes that financial considerations should not prevent students who meet our academic criteria from enrolling at AUB. The average financial aid award is $9,171.

CAMPUS LIFE

AUB is located in the neighborhood of Ras Beirut. Its 61-acre (250,000-square-meter) campus overlooks the Mediterranean Sea and includes 64 buildings, athletic fields, a private beach, a bird sanctuary, and a repository of native and non-native trees and shrubs. The university comprises seven student residences, the AUB Medical Center, the Charles Hostler Student Center, four libraries, computer labs, two art galleries, the Archaeological and Natural History Museums, and one of Lebanon’s few geological collections.

The Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences’ Advancing Research Enabling Communities (AREC) Center, a 247-acre (one-million-square-meter) research farm and educational facility, is located in the Beqaa Valley.

STUDENT LIFE

www.aub.edu.lb/main/students

“Students are at the heart of Vision 2030. They are at the heart of everything at AUB— as they should be. It all begins with them and it must end with them.”

Fadlo R. Khuri, interview in MainGate magazine, summer 2018

AUB was the first residential university in the Middle East. Whether they live on or near the campus in Ras Beirut, AUB students attend and participate in many academic, athletic, civic, and club activities. About one-fifth of AUB students live on campus in university housing.

OFFICE OF STUDENT AFFAIRS

www.aub.edu.lb/sao

Dean Talal Nizameddin, PhD

The Office of Student Affairs enriches and broadens students’ educational experience by organizing and encouraging social, physical, cultural, professional, and intellectual activities that promote personal development and psychological well-being.

The office includes Student Activities, University Sports, the Counseling Center, Wellness Outreach, Career Hub, the Work Study Program, and Student Housing. Students are encouraged to participate in student government, student publications, and more than 80 active clubs and societies. The office also organizes major events such as the student elections and the job fair as well as regular workshops and awareness sessions for students.

Outlook, AUB’s official student newspaper since 1949, is published weekly by a team of students and covers a wide range of topics related to campus life.

The cost for university housing ranges from $1,493 for a double room to $3,926 for a suite.
UNIVERSITY SPORTS

The Charles Hostler Student Center is a state-of-the-art sports and fitness facility that includes activity rooms (aerobics, karate, cheerleading); an amphitheater, amusement center; AUB Beach; auditorium; multipurpose indoor courts (basketball, volleyball, handball, futsal, and badminton); internet café; and fitness center (weight and cardio rooms). University sports facilities also include the Green Field; a six-lane outdoor track; indoor pool; and squash and tennis courts.

Hundreds of AUB students participate in athletic activities each year. Among the most popular sports are football and rugby, basketball, futsal, and volleyball.

AUB varsity teams are typically among the strongest in national leagues and enjoy a strong gender balance in major sports.

Multidisciplinary
- Mamdouha El-Sayed Bobst Visiting Professorship
AUB fosters an intellectual community on campus where faculty are empowered by their own research and are encouraged to engage in collegial discourse and interdisciplinary innovation. This commitment supports the university’s mission “to participate in the advancement of knowledge through research” and enhances the educational experience of all AUB students.

Faculty and students (undergraduates, graduate students, and PhD students), working individually and collaboratively with colleagues at the university and in partnerships with other institutions, are advancing our knowledge of a wide range of issues. These include the development of renewable energy resources, strategies for a sustainable environment in arid climates, peace mediation and dialogue, and treatments for human diseases. AUB faculty members partner with more than 60 universities and research centers worldwide.

AUB offers its students and faculty a number of resources and services through its libraries, laboratories, computing centers, and administrative offices that are conveniently located throughout campus. In recent years, research has become increasingly important at AUB where it is encouraged, supported, and rewarded through the advancement of faculty in professorial rank and the graduate degrees earned by master’s and PhD students. AUB is currently home to many research centers and institutes that focus critical expertise and resources to address complex research problems and the rapidly changing needs of Arab societies.

ACADEMIC PROGRAMS

Faculties and Schools
AUB offers more than 120 programs leading to bachelor’s, master’s, MD, and PhD degrees. The language of instruction is English (except for courses in the Department of Arabic and Near Eastern Languages).

Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences (FAFS)
Dean Rabi Mohtar, PhD
(Established as the School of Agriculture in 1952)

Number of instructional faculty: 60 (39 full-time, 21 part-time)
Number of undergraduates: 396 (361 full-time, 35 part-time)
Number of master’s students: 119 (68 full-time, 51 part-time)

FAFS’s three departments (Agriculture, Landscape Design and Ecosystem Management, and Nutrition and Food Sciences) offer six bachelor’s, 13 master’s, one postgraduate diploma, and one joint PhD degree program with the Faculty of Medicine. The faculty operates two research centers: the Environment and Sustainable Development Unit (ESDU), created in 2001, and the Advancing Research Enabling Communities (AREC) Center, a 100-hectare interdisciplinary center in Lebanon’s Béqaa Valley that was founded in 1953.

AREC is dedicated to improving rural livelihoods in the drylands. The site includes a research farm, agricultural library, seed bank, weather station, clinic, several staff resident houses, a student cafeteria and dormitories, classrooms, laboratories, cold storages, workshop, and recreation and sports facilities.

Faculty of Arts and Sciences (FAS)
Dean Nadia El-Cheikh, PhD
(Established in 1866)

Number of instructional faculty: 469 (312 full-time, 157 part-time)
Number of undergraduates: 3,038 (2,812 full-time, 226 part-time)
Number of master’s students: 471 (253 full-time, 218 part-time)
Number of PhD students: 52 (all full-time)

The Faculty of Arts and Sciences (FAS) is AUB’s oldest and largest faculty. It is home to 17 departments, spanning four disciplinary areas: humanities, natural sciences, quantitative thought, and social sciences. FAS offers 25 bachelor’s and 30 master’s degrees, as well as 38 minors, and four PhD programs in Arabic Language and Literature, Arab and Middle Eastern History, Cell and Molecular Biology, and Theoretical Physics. Additionally, eleven research centers, institutes, and programs as well as one central core laboratory all fall under the umbrella of FAS. The faculty, through its teaching and research, promotes free inquiry, academic integrity, and respect for diversity and equality. FAS contributes to AUB’s general mission by encouraging students to be inquisitive and critical, and by teaching them how to speak, write, learn, present opposing views, and navigate ambiguities.

Faculty of Health Sciences (FHS)

Dean Iman Nuwayhid, MD, DrPH

(Established as the School of Public Health in 1954)

Number of instructional faculty: 49 (42 full-time, 7 part-time)

Number of undergraduates: 251 (238 full-time, 13 part-time)

Number of master’s students: 150 (73 full-time, 77 part-time)

Number of PhD students: 3 (all full-time)

Established in 1954 as an independent school of public health, the Faculty of Health Sciences achieved faculty status in 1978. The faculty awards graduate and undergraduate degrees through four departments (Environmental Health, Epidemiology and Population Health, Health Promotion and Community Health, and Health Management and Policy) and a Division of Health Professions run jointly with the Faculty of Medicine (FM). FHS also teaches courses in public health to medical students and physicians-in-training at FM.

FHS hosts a Center for Research on Population and Health (CRPH), a Center for Public Health Practice (CPPH), and a Knowledge to Policy (K2P) Center that work synergistically to translate research on health into public health action, practice, and effective policies.

- Environmental Health (BS)

- Medical Laboratory Sciences (BS, with the Faculty of Medicine)
- Public Health in Conflict and Protracted Crises (optional certificate for MPH Students)
- Public Health Nutrition (MS, with the Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences)
The Faculty of Medicine (FM) has provided medical education to students in Lebanon and the Middle East for 150 years. In conjunction with the AUB Medical Center, which was founded in 1902, FM offers an MD, and the MS and PhD programs in biomedical sciences in the disciplines listed below.

- Biochemistry (MS)
- Biochemistry and Molecular Genetics (PhD)
- Biomedical Engineering (MS, PhD, with the Maroun Semaan Faculty of Engineering and Architecture)
- Cell Biology of Cancer (PhD)
- Health Profession Program (PhD)
- Human Morphology (MS)
- Microbiology and Immunology (MS, PhD)
- Neurosciences (MS, PhD)
- Interfaculty
- Nutrition (PhD, with the Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences)
- Orthodontics (MS)
- Pharmacology and Therapeutics (MS, PhD)
- Physiology (MS, PhD)
- SHARP (MS, with the Faculty of Health Sciences)

FM also runs the Division of Health Professions with the Faculty of Health Sciences that offers these degree programs:

- Medical Audiology Sciences (BS)
- Medical Imaging Sciences (BS)
- Medical Laboratory Sciences (BS)

The university began offering a BS program in engineering in 1913. Today’s Maroun Semaan Faculty of Engineering and Architecture (MSFEA) has six departments: Architecture and Design, Chemical and Petroleum Engineering; Civil and Environmental Engineering; Electrical and Computer Engineering; Industrial Engineering and Management; and Mechanical Engineering, as well as a graduate program in biomedical engineering. In addition to 23 bachelor’s and master’s degrees in these and other fields, MSFEA also offers programs leading to the PhD degree in biomedical engineering (with the Faculty of Medicine), civil engineering, electrical and computer engineering, environmental and water resources engineering, and mechanical engineering. MSFEA is also home to over a dozen dynamic research centers and groups.

MSFEA offers the following degree programs:

- Applied Energy (ME)
- Architecture (BAR)
- Biomedical Engineering (MS, PhD, with the Faculty of Medicine)
- Chemical Engineering (BS, BE, ME, MS)
- Civil Engineering (BE, ME, PhD)
- Computer and Communications

Rafic Hariri School of Nursing (HSON)
Named for trustee, entrepreneur, investor, business leader, public servant, and philanthropist Rafic Hariri

Founding Dean Huda Abu-Saad Huijer, RN, PhD, FEANS, FAAN
(Established in 1905; named in 2008)

Number of instructional faculty: 25 (23 full-time, 2 part-time) and 25 part-time clinical preceptors

Number of undergraduates: 166 (152 full-time, 14 part-time)

Number of master’s students: 52 (8 full-time, 44 part-time)

Number of PhD students: 3 (all full-time)

The Rafic Hariri School of Nursing (HSON) is the first school of nursing to be accredited (in 2007) and reaccredited (in 2012) by the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education outside the United States. Inaugurated in 2009, the Rafic Hariri School of Nursing building houses a state-of-the-art simulation and clinical competency center, an auditorium, and a computer lab in addition to a research center, administrative and faculty offices, and classrooms. HSON became AUB’s seventh faculty in September 2018.

HSON offers the following undergraduate degrees in nursing: BSN, RN-BSN, BT-BSN, BA / BS-BSN. It also offers a master’s degree in nursing (MSN) program with the following tracks: Nursing Administration and Management, Adult Gerontology Clinical Nurse Specialist with a possible minor in nursing education, Psychiatric Mental Health Clinical Nurse Specialist with a possible minor in nursing education, and Community and Public Health Nursing with a possible minor in nursing education. The PhD in Nursing Science program was launched in 2018 with 3 full-time students.

Suliman S. Olayan School of Business (OSB)
Named for trustee, entrepreneur, investor, business leader, and philanthropist Suliman S. Olayan

Dean Steve Harvey, PhD
(Established in 2000; named in 2003)

Number of instructional faculty: 85 (61 full-time, 24 part-time)

Number of undergraduates: 1,100 (1,039 full-time, 61 part-time)

Number of master’s students: 177 (86 full-time, 91 part-time)

Business education at AUB started in 1900 but remained under the auspices of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences until the university established an independent school of business as its sixth faculty in 2000.

The Suliman S. Olayan School of Business (OSB) provides rigorous undergraduate and graduate business education with uniquely crafted curricula that are balanced between theoretical and practical approaches. OSB includes a number of knowledge centers and initiatives that encourage teaching and engagement with the private and public sectors including the Samih Darwazah Center for Innovation Management and Entrepreneurship and the Rami Fouad Makhzoumi Initiative in Corporate Governance.

OSB attained its initial AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business) accreditation in 2009 and was re-accredited in 2014. It offers degrees in business administration (BBA, MBA, Executive MBA), finance (MFIN), human resource management (MHRM), and business analytics (MSBA).

INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMS

www.aub.edu.lb/oip

Since its inception, AUB has welcomed students from around the world. The largest population of international students at AUB today hails from the United States, followed by Syria, Jordan, Palestine, and Canada. In recent years, AUB has quadrupled its number of exchange partners, sending and receiving students from dozens of universities in Asia, Europe, and North America.

International Student Support
The Office of International Programs (OIP) recognizes that international students have particular concerns and provides services and support to facilitate their smooth transition and integration into AUB and Lebanon. OIP offers information and assistance on obtaining necessary visas and residency permits and also helps students enjoy a rich cross-cultural experience at AUB by encouraging them to participate fully in university life. OIP’s Student Mentor Program provides an opportunity for a diverse and dedicated group of AUB students to volunteer their time throughout the academic year to ease the path for international students.
OFFICE OF REGIONAL EXTERNAL PROGRAMS

www.aub.edu.lb/rep

Vice President Hassan B. Diab, PhD

Since 1976 the Office of Regional External Programs (REP) has leveraged the expertise of AUB faculty and staff to provide consulting and technical assistance for governments, international organizations, foundations, nonprofit associations, businesses, and industry in North America, the Middle East, and North Africa.

REP has extensive experience in providing technical services to major educational institutions in the region such as Mohammed Al Mana’ College for Health Sciences in Saudi Arabia and the Ahfad University for Women in Sudan. REP also organizes consulting and training services to support initiatives such as the Youth Development Project for the Ministry of Youth & Sports in Lebanon; and the Leaders for Democracy Fellowship Program, Water Management Studies, and the Dietary Intake Study in the United Arab Emirates.

REP also administers customized capacity-building and executive development programs for public and private sector clients in a wide range of fields. Dar Jana International Schools and Jazeera Pharmaceutical Industries in Saudi Arabia, Watani Investment Company in Kuwait; and Banque Libano-Française, Bank Audi, and the Ministry of Health Statistical Department in Lebanon are among REP’s clients.

REP sometimes partners with major international development organizations to help improve service delivery and implement sustainable market-based reforms in the MENA region. It has worked closely, for example, with the US Agency for International Development, various United Nations bodies, the Department for International Development, Medical Aid for Palestinians, and the World Bank Group.

REP’s Continuing Education Center (CEC) offers certificate and diploma, non-credit programs, non-certificate courses, intensive professional courses as well as special programs that can lead to professional certificates and diplomas for adult learners in the community in many areas particularly related to business, information technology, education, and languages. At the corporate level, REP organizes certificate programs in project management in both Lebanon and Saudi Arabia, real estate, and pharmaceutical marketing. CEC is active in corporate social responsibility (CSR) youth empowerment programs and special offerings and initiatives for Syrian refugee students. CEC offers journalism and communication training courses leading to a certificate and diploma in both journalism and strategic communication. CEC will soon be launching on-line courses leading to certificates.

The University for Seniors (UfS) Program at CEC is a life-long learning life-transforming initiative at AUB, the first of its kind in Lebanon and the Middle East. The program projects a positive image of aging, one where seniors are mentally, physically, and socially engaged and are active contributors to their community. The program focuses on engagement and contribution as two pillars of healthy aging. UfS provides adults over the age of 50 with educational and cultural opportunities in a welcoming environment offering a variety of activities including study groups, lectures, educational trips, and intergenerational events with AUB students.

WORLDWIDE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF AUB

Did you know?

Nine AUB alumnae were ranked among the “Middle East’s Most Influential Women 2018” by Forbes Middle East magazine.

AUB alumni have had – and continue to have – a broad and significant impact on the region and the world. They also play a critically important role at the university. More than two-thirds (71 percent) of AUB alumni are from Lebanon; 16 percent from the MENA region; 4 percent from North America; 3 percent from Europe; and 3 percent from Sub-Saharan Africa, Asia, Australia, and South America. Numbering more than 68,000, AUB alumni work in government, the private sector, and in nongovernmental organizations in more than 115 countries around the world.
The Worldwide Alumni Association of AUB (WAAAUB) works to strengthen the ties between AUB and its alumni to engage all alumni in supporting the goals and the educational, research, and service mission of the university.

There are now 63 alumni chapters and branches around the world. AUB established eight new alumni chapters in the last two years: in the Ivory Coast (January 2017), for alumni of the University Scholarship Programs (April 2017), and for Dental Medicine (May 2018). Five of the eight new alumni chapters are in North America: Missouri (July 2017), British Columbia (October 2017), Central & North Florida (November 2017), Orange County (February 2018), and San Diego (March 2018).

In October 2017, President Khuri appointed Trustee Alumnus Hisham Jaroudi (BAR ‘66) as the interim president of WAAAUB. Previous WAAAUB presidents were: Khalil Makkawi (BA ’54), 2006–11; Nabil Dajani (BA ’57, MA ’60), 2011–15; and Wafa Saab (EMBA ’07), 2015–17.

 LIBRARIES

AUB has four libraries: the Nami Jafet Memorial Library (the Main Library), the Saab Memorial Medical Library, the Engineering and Architecture Library, and the Science and Agriculture Library. These libraries are home to one of the world’s largest and finest collections related to Lebanese, Arab, Islamic, and Middle Eastern studies. The libraries are also home to the largest collection of English language material in the Arab world and to sizeable collections in all the subject areas in which the university offers degree programs.

The libraries’ materials include 1.5 million print and electronic volumes of books, 5,000 print periodicals, hundreds of newspapers, and more than 1.2 million audiovisual items – many dating back to the late 19th and early 20th centuries. The libraries subscribe to over 350 databases, provide access to 130,000 periodicals, and are currently working on digitizing 10,000 pre-1956 print Arabic books.

The Archives and Special Collections include many unique and historic items related to the history of AUB, Lebanon, and the Middle East, which are frequently sought and used by researchers from all over the world.

The libraries include state-of-the-art computer labs and electronic classrooms and are fully automated, providing remote access to their electronic databases, books, periodicals, and reference material. They are managed by a team of 40 professional and 50 support staff members who provide numerous high-quality services.

SUPPORTING AUB

www.aub.edu.lb/advancement

Vice President Imad B. Baalbaki, PhD

The Office of University Advancement develops and strengthens relationships with key AUB constituencies around the world to advance the university. The office helps to position the university by engaging alumni, supporters, and influential friends; and by securing philanthropic donations, volunteer involvement, and other support.

The office supports the mission and priorities of AUB’s Faculty of Agricultural and Food Sciences, Faculty of Arts and Sciences, Faculty of Health Sciences, Faculty of Medicine, the Maroun Semaan Faculty of Engineering and Architecture, the Rafic Hariri School of Nursing, and the Suliman S. Olayan School of Business. It works to achieve the university’s fundraising goals including: increasing financial aid; reinvigorating liberal arts education; promoting interdisciplinary research relevant to the region; and the AUBMC 2020 Vision to reinforce the position of the Medical Center as the leading provider of healthcare, medical education, and related research in the region. In early 2017 AUB culminated its 150th anniversary celebrations by launching BOLDLY AUB: The Campaign to Lead, Innovate, and Serve.

The Office of University Advancement works closely with AUB’s more than 68,000 alumni.

BUDGET AND FUNDING

AUB’s budget for fiscal year 2018–19 is $457 million. The endowment (2018) is $731 million.

Services provided at AUB’s Medical Center (47 percent) and Educational Services (33 percent) account for 80 percent of AUB’s revenues. Contributions, Grants, and Contracts (10 percent), excluding contributions to the Endowment and Capital Projects, provide important funding for scholarships, research, and other university priorities. Other revenues are investment income (7 percent) and auxiliary enterprises (3 percent).

Health Services represents the largest share of operating expenses (44 percent) followed by Educational Services (41 percent), Management and General (12 percent), Auxiliary Enterprises (2 percent), and Advancement (1 percent).

VISITING THE CAMPUS

ARCHAEOLOGICAL MUSEUM

www.aub.edu.lb/museum_archeo

The AUB Archaeological Museum is the third oldest museum in the Near East, after Cairo and Constantinople. In 1868, just two years after the founding of the Syrian Protestant College, the American Consul in Cyprus, General Cesnola, donated the first gift of Cypriot pottery. With this nucleus collection, the AUB Museum was born.

The AUB Museum celebrated its 150th anniversary in 2018. To mark the occasion, it organized an exhibition and premiered an outstanding film by Philip Aractingi animating the museum’s history. An international colloquium in June 2018 brought together representatives from eight of the world’s most important museums to highlight the role of the AUB Museum among these leading institutions.

The museum provides a unique overview of archaeology in the Near East from the Early Stone Age to the Islamic Period showcasing collections from Lebanon, Syria, Cyprus, Palestine, Egypt, Iraq, and Iran.

Jointly with the Society of the Friends, the museum runs a full program of activities: lectures, exhibitions, children’s programs, gallery talks, and cultural trips in Lebanon and abroad.

Guided tours of the museum may be arranged upon appointment. Audio-Guides are available free of charge.

For 150 years, the histories of AUB and Ras Beirut have been intertwined, shaping each other’s identity and place within the city. The Neighborhood Initiative is AUB’s way of giving back to the neighborhood by mobilizing the university’s resources for the public good, beginning just outside the campus walls. The Neighborhood Initiative mobilizes the full power of AUB (intellectual, human, corporate) for the public good in Ras Beirut, promoting the neighborhood’s livability, vitality, and diversity through innovative outreach activities and multidisciplinary research. The mission of the Neighborhood Initiative echoes the mission of the university at large, highlighting the importance of service and civic responsibility in Lebanon and the region. The university’s mission to provide excellent education and advance knowledge through research is enhanced and made more relevant by engagement with local issues and offering solutions to real problems.

AUB IN THE COMMUNITY

“AUB seeks to position itself as the institution in the Arab world that is most impactful, that is most far-reaching, and most of all, that is most fair.”

Fadlo R. Khuri, September 27, 2018

CENTER FOR CIVIC ENGAGEMENT AND COMMUNITY SERVICE

Established in 2008, the Center for Civic Engagement and Community Service (CCECS) builds bridges between the AUB community, stakeholders, humanitarian agencies, policymakers, and community partners, with an overarching mission to connect developmental planning, which aims at empowering the marginalized, to experiential learning. The dyad of Transformative Education through Civic Engagement and Community Development Projects reflects the center’s journey through the decade.

Transformative Education through Civic Engagement: During 2017–18, approximately 3,000 AUB students participated in CCECS activities, completing a total of 18,645 volunteer hours with nearly 250 community partners. 482 full-scholarship students from the USAID-University Scholarship Program, Middle East Partnership Initiative - Tomorrow’s Leaders Program, the MasterCard Foundation Scholars Program, and the Al-Ghurair STEM Scholars Program participated in volunteering rotations, leadership development workshops, internships with community partners, and 41 community service projects led by 175 USP students which were implemented across Lebanon.

Community Development Projects:
More than 6,000 direct beneficiaries are being served under the center’s Syria Relief Response Projects which include: 1) Ghata: Bringing Education to Refugees in Informal Tented Settlements, 2) Tech for Food Digital Skills Training Program, 3) Partnership
d for Digital Learning and Increased Access (PADILEIA), 4) Science
Education: A Key to University Access for Refugee Girls, 5) Higher Education English Access Program, and 6) the Language Exchange Program. The center’s key strategic partners include: Reach Out To Asia (ROTA), Kayany Foundation, Al Maymouna,
UN-World Food Programme, King’s College London / Department for International Development (DFID),
Higher and Further Education
Opportunities and Perspectives
for Syrians (HOPES) – EU Madad,
British Council, Harvard Program in Refugee Trauma, Maastricht School of Management/ Nuffic, and Profuturo.

CCECS continues to garner international recognition. In 2017–18, the Tech for Food Digital Skills Training Program won the MIT Enterprise Forum ‘Innovate for Refugees’ Award. The Ghata project has also been recognized with the Learn by Design Honorary Award at South-by-South West (SXSW) EDU and the Fritz Redlich Human Rights Award from Harvard University.

HEALTHY CAMPUS, HEALTHY COMMUNITY

AUB organizes and participates in dozens of activities throughout the year to promote a healthy campus – and also a healthy community. A partial list of initiatives includes:
- Calcium Metabolism and Osteoporosis Program
- Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)
  Initiative
- Health and Wellness Center
- Neighborhood Initiative
- RUN AUB RUN
- Strategic Health Initiative (SHI)
- Tobacco Control Research Group
- Vascular Medicine Program

ALMA MATER

Far, far above the waters
Of the deep blue sea,
Lies the campus of the College,
Where we love to be.
Far away behold Kanisah!
Far beyond, Sannin!
Rising hoary to the heavens,
Clad in glorious sheen.

From Iraq or from Arabia
From the banks so green
Of the great Egyptian river
Or from Palestine;
From the waters of Abana
Lebanon serene,
We salute thee, Alma Mater!
Oriental Queen.

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater!
We would ever be
Worthy children. Make us faithful,
Faithful e’er to thee!
Whereso’er the land that calls us,
E’en across the sea,
We’ll salute thee, Alma Mater,
Hail! O Hail! to thee.

Chorus:
Look before us!
Shout the chorus!
See the banner wave.
AUB in thee we glory;
Make us true and brave.
