

SHARP MS Student Wins KIP Grant and MPP Grant

SHARP MS student, Dr. Eman Sbaity won the KIP (Knowledge Is Power) Grant for the period April 2016-April 2017 for a research proposal titled: “Perception of Physicians about Women Surgeons”. KIP grant was awarded to 15 researchers all over the world with projects themes on gender and career discrimination. She also won one of the MPP grants, for her project “A randomized, controlled trial comparing wound Complications in elective midline laparotomies after Fascia Closure using two different Techniques Of Running sutures : COFACTOR-trial.” This project was prepared throughout the SHARP 321a-Clinical Trials course and her proposal scored in the top 10%.