An Invitation to Participate in the Fourth Annual Student Day for Graduate Studies at the American University of Beirut

Beirut, Lebanon- 28/1/2016 -The American University of Beirut is holding its fourth annual Graduate Studies Open House at West Hall, AUB, on Wednesday, February 3, 2016 from 2:00 pm to 4:00 pm. This open meeting will provide an opportunity for participants to view the available programs in higher education at the university in a wide range of disciplines. The six university faculties offer a wide range of master's and doctoral programs in many fields.

Although English is the language of instruction at the university, poor fluency in this language will not be an obstacle for enrolling in AUB. According to the Graduate Studies Council, the university offers a preparatory program to improve the students' English language skills.

AUB gives to its students great opportunities for financial aid, as part of its commitment to provide higher education to bright and ambitious students, regardless of their financial situation.

In today's world, there is no greater promising investment for the future than in a higher education degree from an internationally renowned university.

This degree would be a key to professional success. It recalled that AUB provides various educational programs, based on the concept of the free liberal education that develops the student's general knowledge and rational thought process, in a perfectly Middle Eastern context.

The AUB Graduate Council calls on interested candidates to contact it to arrange for them a tour of the campus and allow them to discover how AUB provides a unique and important alternative for postgraduate programs in Lebanon and the Middle East. An estimated one thousand and four hundred students are currently enrolled in graduate studies at AUB.
