First online diploma program in green technologies accepting applications

Beirut, Lebanon- 30/03/2015 - A new semester of the first online/dual professional diploma in Green Technologies, PRO-GREEN, has started.

Online admission is now open and will continue until May 16, 2015. To apply or learn more about the program, please go to <http://www.aub.edu.lb/pro-green/Pages/index.aspx>

PRO-GREEN is a joint collaboration between The American University of Beirut (AUB), the American University in Cairo (AUC), and the Lebanese American University (LAU). It offers an online diploma in three areas of specialization: Energy, Buildings and Water.

A background in engineering, sciences or architecture is one of the requirements for this diploma along with English proficiency for admissions. To receive the Diploma, a total of 18 credits should be completed in three semesters. The certificate offers flexibility by accommodating candidates' working schedule and geographic locations. Candidates can engage in their course activities at their convenience, whether by watching on-line lectures, performing assignments, interacting in on-line forums, whenever their time permits within flexible deadlines.
