

Interested in completing a BA degree in Elementary Education?

Do you want our children's learning to meet 21st century needs? Do you want to become active in improving teaching practices? If your answer is affirmative to both questions, you should consider a BA degree in Elementary Education. Students who join the Undergraduate program in Elementary Education in the Department of Education aspire to become agents of change in their community. They develop into reflective teachers who believe in children as critical thinkers and independent learners.

The curriculum of the elementary education /BA program combines theory and field practice where the Department's expert instructors in collaboration with qualified school mentors work with you to help you be a qualified practitioner in the profession. The BA program in Elementary Education offers you four areas of emphasis: English/Social Studies, Arabic/ Social Studies, Mathematics / Science and Art/Music. Choose one area based on your interest and academic strengths. Your BA degree in Elementary Education leads you to an MA in Elementary Education and other Education graduate fields.
