

Malak is a research assistant at the comprehensive neuroscience lab, my work done was: if knee joint inflammation increases neurogenesis in the spinal cord and the hippocampus. Moreover i am assisting several students with their master projects.