

Alissar Ghaddar, Pharm.D., Senior Attending Oncology Clinical Pharmacist – Oncology Team

Dr. Alissar earned her Bachelor's degree in Pharmacy at the Lebanese American University, Byblos-Lebanon in 2013 and her Doctor of Pharmacy degree (Pharm.D) at the Lebanese American University as well in 2014. She did her training as a Pharmacy Intern at the Methodist Hospital, Houston, Texas from February 2013 till June 2013. Dr. Alissar joined the American University of Beirut Medical Center – Pharmacy Department in 2013 as an attending clinical pharmacist in the oncology team. She was promoted in 2016 to senior attending clinical pharmacist. Her duties include participating in clinical rounds, providing in patient education for nurses, pharmacists, and physicians, and processing chemotherapy orders. She is also responsible for new pharmacist and intern training. Dr. Alissar is a member of several hospital committees including the Saint Jude Children Cancer Center Outpatient Flow working group. She participated in different workshops at AUBMC with the Human Resources department. She is an epic super user providing consistent end user support during pre- during and post go live period. Dr. Alissar has given a variety of presentations on a local, national and international level such as the Lebanese Society of Medical Oncology, the Annual Beirut Breast Cancer Conference, and poster presentation at the European Conference of Oncology Pharmacists. She is an active member of local and international professional societies including The Order of Pharmacists of Lebanon.