

Rhea Saad earned her degree of Doctor in Pharmacy from Saint Joseph University in 2011 followed by a Diploma in Clinical Pharmacy in 2012. She completed her training at Hotel Dieu de France hospital between 2010 and 2012. She joined the American University of Beirut Medical Center in 2012 where she holds now the position of senior attending clinical pharmacist, covering Adult's Oncology, Bone Marrow Transplant Unit, and the Children's Cancer Center. In 2016, she received her MBA degree specialized in Healthcare Management from Sorbonne University. She is board certified in oncology pharmacy and a clinical preceptor for the solid tumors rotation and a research preceptor in the pharmacy residency program at AUBMC.