

Dr. Hisham Bou Fakhreddine graduated with the degree of Bachelor in Medicine and General Surgery from Beirut Arab University (BAU) in 2009. After which, he completed three-year residency training in Internal Medicine (2010-2013) and three-year fellowship training in Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine (2013-2016) at the American University of Beirut (AUB). He also holds the Scholars in HeAlth Research Program (SHARP) Certificate (2016) from AUB and is currently completing his SHARP MS in Health Research. Hisham is the holder of several awards and recognitions including the Jamal Abel-Nasser Award for Scientific Distinction (2007) from BAU, and the Junior Resident of the Year Award (2012), Fellow of the Year Award (2014), Teacher of the Year Award (2021), and Faculty Advancement Program Research Proposal Award (2022) from AUB. He is also a faculty inductee to the Gold Humanism Honor Society (GHHS) AUB Chapter.

Hisham joined Ain Wazein Medical Village as Pulmonary and Critical Care Attending Physician (2016-2020) and BAU as Visiting Lecturer (2020), before he rejoined AUB in 2020 as Clinical Associate and in 2021 as Instructor of Clinical Medicine, Division of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine. As a pulmonologist, Hisham developed a research interest in studying various respiratory diseases, in particular interstitial lung diseases (ILD) and long-term effects of COVID-19. He is also interested in designing clinical trials, large databases, and registries.