

Abstract submission guidelines

Nursing Research Day-2022

- Abstract will be reviewed by the Scientific Committee
- Abstract should be a max of 200 words divided into 4 sections: Background and objectives; methods; results; conclusion.
- Researchers should be notified with the decision via email by March 31, 2022
- In case you are unable to present your abstract, you may correspond with our team via our email address: ng28@aub.edu.lb , no later than April 20, 2022.
- Each participant shall present only one abstract. If you have more than one accepted abstract, you need another co-author to present and you need to send us his/her name and email.

Please see the below instructions about oral / poster preparations:

Oral presentation:

- Original, creative, accurate and relevant (cite as needed)
- Right level of detail (informative and brief)
- Use charts, graphs, and images
- Well organized (logical flow of ideas)
- Visually pleasant (background color and font size)
- A brief biography (Two sentences) for your introduction before your presentation (The moderator will read and introduce you as a presenter according to the lines that you have provided).
- Duration 15 minutes followed by 5 minutes Questions & Answers

Poster presentation:

- Original, creative, accurate and relevant (cite as needed)
- Right level of detail (informative and brief)
- Use charts, graphs, and images
- Well organized (logical flow of ideas)
- Visually pleasant (background color and large font size)
- A brief biography (Two sentences) for your self-introduction before your presentation.
- A five-minute video recording with clear voice, or a power point slide explaining the content of your poster

Oral/poster evaluation.

Three judges will evaluate each presentation based on a set of criteria: the presenter's explanation of the content, their ability to answer questions about the research, and presentation design and delivery. Presenters should be prepared to explain to a judge who is not familiar with their field and to one who may be an expert in the field. By the end of the Nursing Research Day, we will announce the best oral and poster award.

Criteria for Evaluating Abstracts 2022 HSON Research Day

1. Relevance of the topic to the nursing profession
Does the topic have current relevance in the field?

2. Clarity and structure of the presentation (consistency and coherence)
Is the presentation well organized and clearly written? (Clearly stated questions, data sources, data collection procedures, analytic approach, and results)

3. Significance
Do the results contribute to the development of nursing knowledge or to nursing practice, for quality improvement or evidence-based projects (potential to change) or education for educational projects, or for nursing administration?

4. Innovation/originality
Does the abstract address a current topic?

Scientific Committee
Nursing Research Day
Hariri School of Nursing
American University of Beirut