

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF BEIRUT
RAFIC HARIRI SCHOOL OF NURSING

Annual Report
Academic Year 2010-11

PREFACE

The 2010-11 academic year has been an incredible year of growth for the Rafic Hariri School of Nursing (HSON) with great achievements in education, research, and service.

In education, the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE) Board of Commissioners determined that the AUB BSN and MSN programs continue to meet all accreditation standards. Preparations are underway for the CCNE re-accreditation site visit which will take place May 14 – 16, 2012. The BSN and MSN programs have been revised based on feedback that has been received over the last five years from student exit and satisfaction surveys as well as benchmarking exercises with nursing programs in the United States. In addition, the nursing curriculum was aligned with the new AUB General Education (GE) requirements resulting in some nursing courses being designated as GE courses. All changes were based on accreditation standards.

Despite heavy teaching loads, HSON faculty continue to be actively involved in research and other scholarly activities. A number of research projects received competitive grants from AUB and other national funding agencies. Scientific publications and scholarly presentations at national and international conferences are on the increase. Some faculty members, in close collaboration with colleagues at AUB, have been involved in national and regional research projects resulting in clinically and educationally relevant publications. Faculty development funds to support faculty working on their PhDs and the appointment of PhD-prepared faculty have contributed to a significant increase in the scholarly productivity of the faculty.

One of the highlights was the completion of a PhD dissertation at the Faculty of Engineering and Architecture which was based on collaborative work between FEA & HSON.

Joint appointments with AUBMC Nursing Services and with the Faculty of Medicine were initiated creating more possibilities for collaboration thereby leveraging the impact and effectiveness of HSON's expertise.

Student recruitment continues to be a major priority at HSON; a large number of schools were visited and open houses for students and high school counselors were held. Merit scholarships for students were also increased this past year resulting in substantial improvements in student enrollment and retention.

Achieving an autonomous Faculty status continues to be a major strategic goal for HSON. A proposal to that effect was submitted to the AUB administration and has received support; a transitional period was granted during which HSON will function autonomously. The director was invited to serve as ex-officio member on the BOD and a new organizational structure was developed and will be implemented.

For the fifth year in a row, the HSON Summer Nursing Institute 2011 attracted a large number of students from HSON and AUB, as well as participants from Lebanon and the region. Additionally, HSON organized three conferences this past year; two during the Middle East Medical Assembly (MEMA) in MONTH 2011. A collaborative conference between the Faculty of Medicine, the Faculty of Health Sciences, and the Hariri School of Nursing was also organized to launch the Lancet Report on Health Professionals for the 21st Century in MONTH. Inter-professional education with emphasis on institutional and instructional reforms was discussed.

Great universities and schools are more than just teaching institutions. They also strive for great innovations and path breaking research aimed at improving the world we live in. We are proud of our achievements this past year, which we have detailed in this annual report. We hope you will find it interesting and helpful.

B. SUMMER NURSING INSTITUTE / SPECIAL TOPICS COURSES

For the fifth year in a row, HSON organized a Summer Nursing Institute in collaboration with the Johns Hopkins University and University of San Francisco Schools of Nursing. During the institute, nursing faculty teach courses that are of interest to our students and to others in Lebanon and the region. We provide below a description of the courses and the names of the teaching faculty.

Nursing Informatics

June 20 – 24

Description: This Nursing Informatics course uses a combination of nursing science, computer science, and information analysis approaches as they pertain to identifying, gathering, processing, and managing information. Emphasis is placed on technology-based health applications which support clinical, administrative, research, and educational decision making enhancing the efficacy of nursing practice.

Sana Marini, RN, MPH

Clinical Assistant Professor, Hariri School of Nursing, AUB

Health Promotion Strategies across the Life Span

June 27 – July 1

Description: This course describes theories and concepts of health, health promotion, and illness prevention as they apply to individuals, families, groups, or aggregates and communities across the life span. Students are encouraged to integrate and apply these concepts in their specialty setting-be it hospital, clinic, home, community agencies, or populations in the community- to promote health and prevent illness.

Mary Arevian, RN, MPH

Clinical Associate Professor, Hariri School of Nursing, AUB

The Neurobiology of Learning and Memory; Rethinking Patient Education!

July 4 – 8

Description: Through a combination of lectures and discussions, this course explores the anatomical basis of learning and memory from a behavioral and neural perspective. It also examines the effect of stress on the brain and consequently on learning and memory and its implications for patient education.

Hala Darwish, RN, PhD

Assistant Professor, Hariri School of Nursing, AUB

Evidence-based Practice in Maternity Care

June 10 – 15

Description: This course reviews the evidence-based nursing practices of the antepartum, intrapartum, postpartum, breastfeeding, and newborn client. Case studies, multimedia, and webinars from professional organizations are used to enhance class discussion.

Christine Weir Abbyad, PhD, RN, WHNP

Clinical Assistant Professor, Hariri School of Nursing, AUB

Clinical Evaluation

July 18 – 22

Description: Learning the culture and the skills of nursing requires a commitment to pedagogy that includes ways of evaluating what and how novices learn. Attention is given to traditional and emerging strategies, across nursing and other disciplines that can benefit both the learning and the teaching environment.

Judith Lambton, EdD, MSN, RN

Professor, University of San Francisco, California

Budgeting in Nursing

July 25 – 29

Description: This course focuses on practical applications of concepts in nursing budgeting and finance. Emphasis is placed on development of nursing budgets for a patient care unit and for a department/division. Key concepts relevant to nursing are defined including staffing, nursing care hours, hours per patient day, patient acuity, direct and indirect hours of care, and productive and unproductive time. In addition, tools for calculating and evaluating budgets as well as strategies for maintaining a balanced budget are also discussed.

Gladys Mouro, RN, BSN, MSN, PhD (H)

International Consultant

Smoking Cessation

August 1 – 5

Description: Many people wish to change their behavior or that of other individuals or groups of people. This course presents smoking cessation as an example of a behavior modification program. Included is a brief review of behavior modification theory in addition to the evidence for why certain elements should be included in such a program.

Christine Weir Abbyad, PhD, RN, WHNP

Clinical Assistant Professor, Hariri School of Nursing, AUB

Domestic Violence against Women/Family Violence

August 8 – 12

Description: The course focuses on the causes and extent of violence in the family, human responses to violence, the influence of culture and community on violence in the family, and nursing interventions for the problem on the primary, secondary, and tertiary prevention levels. Areas of violence in the family to be examined include child abuse, intimate partner abuse, sexual abuse, violence involving adolescent family members, abuse of elderly family members, and homicide.

Jacquelyn Campbell, PhD, RN, FAAN

Professor, Anna D. Wolf Chair

John Hopkins University School of Nursing, USA

C. FACULTY RECRUITMENT / APPOINTMENTS

Recruitment:

HSON advertised for faculty positions and for the Hariri Endowed Chair in Nursing at the American Academy of Nursing (AAN), The Chronicle of Higher Education, Sigma Theta Tau Nursing Honor Society (STTI), and American Association of Colleges of Nursing (AACN). Recruitment information was also mailed to leading schools of nursing, professional organizations, and mailing lists in the United States and Europe.

Appointments:

- Michael Clinton, Professor, re-appointment effective November 2011.
- Lina Kantar, Lecturer, effective September 2011.

III. EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIESA. EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS*BSN:

- Course and clinical evaluation methods have undergone extensive review. Clinical evaluation tools for all nursing courses were developed and are being implemented.
- Although students have consistently evaluated the nursing curriculum positively, they find it extremely demanding. Based on feedback over the last five years from student exit and satisfaction surveys as well as a benchmarking exercise with BSN programs in the United States, the BSN curriculum has been revised. Theory and clinical courses were combined and the total number of credits per combined course was reduced and aligned with international standards. A practicum was added and is offered in the summer of the third year in addition to the practicum that is offered in the fourth year.
- The nursing curriculum was aligned with AUB's General Education (GE) and other requirements; some basic science courses and nursing biostatistics course were designated as GE courses; and the Nursing Research course was accepted as a Writing Intensive course.
- Changes made in the BSN curriculum were as follows:
 - NURS 201 (Introduction to Nursing Practice) changed from 3 cr. to 2 cr.
 - NURS 300 (Nursing Care of Adults I, Theory and Practicum), 304 (Nursing Care of the Expectant Family, Theory and Practicum), 302 (Nursing Care of Adults II, Theory and Practicum), 306 (Nursing Care of Children, Theory and Practicum), 402 (Mental Health and Psychiatric Nursing, Theory and Practicum), 408 (Community Health Nursing, Theory and Practicum), and 410 (Leadership and Management in Nursing, Theory and Practicum) changed from 6 cr. to 5 cr. Nursing 400 (Critical Care Nursing, Theory and Practicum) from 6 cr. to 4 cr.
 - A clinical practicum (Practicum I) (zero credit) was added during the summer of the junior year in addition to a practicum in the spring semester of the senior year.
 - Arabic 201 was added as a GE course.
 - All nursing courses are currently offered using Moodle; a few are offered in blended format.
 - NURS 406 Nursing Research was designated as a Writing Intensive course.
 - NURS 203 Biostatistics was designated as a GE course.
 - Simulation technology was introduced and is being used in all nursing courses in preparation for clinical training.

MSN:

Four tracks continue to be offered namely Adult Care, Nursing Administration, Psychiatry and Mental Health Nursing, and Community and Public Health Nursing.

1. The new MSN Pediatric Nursing track was developed but was not introduced due to the small number of applicants.
2. The curriculum of the Nursing Administration track was revised and implemented effective fall semester AY 2011-12.
3. The minor in nursing education was developed but its introduction has been delayed pending availability of faculty expertise. Continuing students enrolled in the existing minor and were granted a certificate upon completion of the requirements from the Hariri School of Nursing.

4. The Advanced Pharmacology course (NURS 515) was offered for the first time by the Pharmacology Department, Faculty of Medicine. An agreement was made to keep the course with the Pharmacology Department and change its number to PHRM 314.
5. A number of students continue to do residencies abroad namely in Qatar (Hamad Health Care Hospital), Australia (University of Technology in Sydney), Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing and Hospitals, Vanderbilt University, University of Michigan, and University of Maryland.
6. Five MSN graduates were granted Woman's Auxiliary Association (WAA) Awards for the first time based on their academic achievements and contribution to university and community service.
7. A town meeting was held on February 23, 2011 during which residencies, projects, and comprehensive exams were discussed and students who completed their residencies in Lebanon and abroad shared their experiences.

Simulation Technology at HSON:

- The HSON Simulation and Clinical Competency Center (SCCC), operational since 2009, provides experiential, safe, and reflective learning experiences for graduate and undergraduate student nurses. Simulation enhances learning retention and provides opportunities to contextualize professional roles and interdisciplinary team work.
- Simulation is now part of the HSON learning-teaching process. It is integrated into the curriculum of each course and program. Technical and critical thinking skills are embedded into each learning activity using high fidelity simulators or standardized patients in acting out clinical scenarios.
- The number of simulation activities doubled in 2011. In addition to nursing faculty and students, medical students and faculty from the Department of Family Medicine also use the facility. The Departments of Pediatrics and Anesthesia have expressed interest in using the facility as well. A number of interdisciplinary projects are currently being planned and will be implemented in the near future.
- Student feedback has been very positive; students have been extremely satisfied at being able to learn through simulation. This has been evidenced by requests for more time and experiences in the simulation center.

B. STUDENT ENROLLMENT

Student Statistics AY 2009-10 compared to 2010-11

C. STUDENT RECRUITMENT & MARKETING STRATEGY

Student recruitment remained high on HSON's agenda this past year. A number of activities took place including the following:

- HSON participated in two school fairs with the Admissions Office; Jbeil Fair and Tyr Fair. Several schools participated in each of the regional fairs. In addition, the HSON team participated in the AUB Annual Fair in April 2011.
- The HSON team continued to visit high schools to recruit students. The student services officer assisted by two faculty members and two graduate assistants visited 25 schools in Lebanon and presented information on HSON programs to students in Grades 11 and 12. A data base with information on all students who attended the recruitment sessions was compiled for follow-up purposes.
 - ✓ A total of 985 high school students participated in the school visits:
 - 331 students were interested in nursing as a profession
 - 109 students were highly interested in nursing as a profession
 - ✓ 24% of the applicants to the BSN program (fall 2011-12) were from visited schools.
 - ✓ 22% of students who enrolled in the BSN program in fall 2011-12 were from visited schools.
- Future student recruitment plans to attract and retain students include:
 - ✓ Annual meetings with student counselors at HSON.
 - ✓ HSON Newsletter to be sent every semester to student counselors and interested students to keep them updated on developments at HSON.
 - ✓ Interested students to be invited to HSON to attend student-related events.
 - ✓ Annual meetings with interested students and their parents.

BSN STUDENT ACTIVITIES

In addition to the community projects that are a part of their Community course, BSN and MSN students participated in the following activities in the 2010-11 academic year:

- December 22, 2010 Christmas Party
- February 25, 2011 Bake Sale for a cancer patient-Baby Amir

Amir, a one-year-old boy, diagnosed with Leukemia was fighting to live. He required urgent bone marrow transplantation in France where the donor lived. HSON's Nursing Student Society (NSS) under the guidance of the NSS advisor Ms. Dina Madi, in collaboration with the AUB Alumni Nurses' Chapter, and the help of Mr. Jad Imad Joudieh, an AUB alumnus (BBA 2007) were able to raise the funds that were needed, which were donated to the family.

- April 8, 2011 Donation to cancer patient-Baby Amir

On behalf of everyone who supported the project, HSON Director Huda Abu-Saad Huijer presented the financial donation to Amir's father, in the presence of the family, the NSS advisor, and NSS cabinet.

- April 27 and 28, 2011 The AUB Volunteering Fair

Nursing students participated in the AUB Volunteering fair Organized by the Center for Civic Engagement and Community Service (CCECS)

- May 21-22, 2011 AUB Outdoors

Nursing students participated in AUB Outdoors

MSN STUDENT ACTIVITIES

MSN students participated in many HSON events and were involved in several educational activities:

- Student Recruitment and School Visits: MSN students assisted the Student Services Officer with student recruitment. They participated in many school visits in different regions in Lebanon to promote the nursing profession and nursing programs at AUB HSON.
- AUB High School Fair: During the last two weeks of April 2011, MSN students participated in the AUB High School Fair which was attended by a large number of grades 10 and 11 students from different schools who learned about all the majors and academic programs at AUB.

IV. ACCREDITATION & STRATEGIC PLANNING

A. CCNE ACCREDITATION

- The CCNE Board of Commissioners approved the Continuous Improvement Progress Report submitted by HSON in November 2010 and determined in their meeting on June 23, 2011 that the AUB BSN and MSN programs continue to meet all accreditation standards.
- A Substantive Change Notification document was submitted to CCNE in September 2010 detailing the most recent curricular changes that have been made to the BSN and MSN programs.
- Preparations are underway for the CCNE re-accreditation site visit which will take place May 14-16, 2012. The self-study report is currently being prepared.

B. STRATEGIC PLANNING

In line with AUB's second cycle of strategic planning (SP), HSON formed a SP team and commenced work in January 2011. A faculty retreat dedicated to strategic planning was held on April 8, 2011. A meeting with key HSON stakeholders was held and SP documents and vision were shared and discussed. The HSON Strategic Planning document was approved by the SP team and faculty and submitted in July 2011.

Survey of University Smokers' Attitudes towards a Smoking Cessation Program

The overall aim of the study was to survey AUB smokers about their experiences and attitudes towards a university sponsored smoking cessation program.

Status: Completed

Results: 305 surveys were collected from students, faculty, and staff. The majority of respondents were in favor of a university sponsored smoking cessation program. More people smoked cigarettes (61%) than arghili (2.6%), with 26.6% smoking both cigarettes and arghilis. Fifty-six percent of survey respondents reported that they wanted to quit cigarettes; 50% wanted to quit argil. Most (61.6%) were moderately to highly motivated to quit smoking. Reasons for quitting were: health (48%), family (50%), friends (46%), expense (44%), cigarettes smell bad (42%), and to be free of cigarettes (48%). Those who had already tried quitting (50%) had tried once (20%) twice (20%), three times (7%), or more (11.5%).

Educational Needs of Maternity Nurses Working in Lebanese Governmental Hospitals

The purpose of this study was to develop a curriculum using an adapted WHO tool to survey maternity nurses and midwives practicing in Lebanese governmental hospitals.

Status: Completed

Results: A WHO assessment tool was adapted to the Lebanese context and used to survey midwifery practice in 20 governmental hospitals. The majority of midwives were found to be practicing safely but needing to update their skills according to evidence based practices. A curriculum was proposed for this purpose.

Impact of a Peer-led Educational Program on Knowledge and Attitudes about Prevention of Substance Abuse among Lebanese/Armenian Adolescents: A Pilot Study.

The purpose of this study is to evaluate the extent to which participation in a peer-led educational program about substance abuse produces changes in knowledge and attitudes among Lebanese/Armenian adolescents.

Other researchers: Tamar Kabakian Khasholian.

Status: Completed.

Results: A convenience sample of 134 students from grades 10, 11, and 12 at two Armenian high schools in Beirut participated in the study. Demographic characteristics of the sample: the age ranged from 15 -20 years, slightly more females than males, a majority (84.1%) lived with their parents. Most students earned average grades (C: 70-79). A majority of the participants (60%) belonged to a club or association. There was a significant increase of knowledge of substance abuse and a significant decline in attitudes related to substance abuse between the pre- and post-tests.

Hypovitaminosis D: A link between bone/mineral and fat/fuel metabolism.

Cognitive sub-study

In this collaborative study we will examine whether Vitamin D will have a significant effect on cognitive function in older adults' pre- and post-intervention. We will compare the cognitive function at baseline prior to Vitamin D supplementation (20,000 IU/week or 500 IU/day or placebo) and at 12 months after intervention.

Capacity Building in Chronic Non-Communicable Diseases at the American University of Beirut: A Programmatic Multidisciplinary Curriculum Based Interfaculty Approach

This training grant aims at building research capacity in Chronic, Non-Communicable Diseases and Disorders across the Lifespan submitted in collaboration with Harvard Medical School. The grant proposes a short term, medium and long term training in clinical research. The short term training involves a certificate program. The medium term adds to the certificate program mentored research experience with a faculty member and the long term training involves a Masters of Science in clinical research. This proposed institutional research training program involves the Faculty of Medicine, Hariri School of Nursing, Faculty of Health Sciences and Faculty of Agriculture and Food Sciences. This program is expected to sustainably strengthen the research capacity of low middle income country institutions, and to train in-country experts to conduct research on chronic, non-communicable diseases and disorders across the lifespan, with the ultimate goal of implementing evidence-based interventions relevant to Lebanon.

Promoting psychosocial and mental health care through community-based educational workshops for teachers and parents: A follow-up to mental health assessments in civilians exposed to traumatic war events in the South of Lebanon

This intervention study is a follow-up to recommendations from previous studies by the PI revealing high rates of psychiatric morbidity in the south of Lebanon. The specific aims of the study are to (1) identify attitudes and beliefs about mental illness, symptoms, and treatment through focus groups conducted with teachers and parents of students, (2) provide psychoeducation (e.g. effects of trauma, depression in children and adolescents) and psychosocial resources (e.g. solutions for student behavioral challenges within the classroom) to parents and teachers through workshops, and to (3) test the efficacy of the intervention by administering questionnaires before and after the educational program to observe changes, if any, in reported mental health problems, attitudes, and practices.

Psychiatric Morbidity in South Lebanon post July 2006: Community Assessment and CBT Randomized Group Intervention

The overall aim is to assess the prevalence of psychiatric morbidity and negative life events in citizens from south Lebanon post July 2006 War. It also aims to test the effectiveness of Cognitive Behavioral Therapy in treating PTSD and depression in a post conflict region using a randomized group intervention.

Co-Investigators: Hani Dimassi

Funding: World Health Organization (initial phase) and Medical Dean's fund

Status: Completed

Results: The sample consisted of 991 adults from 10 villages. One year after the July 2006 war, 17.8% met threshold criteria for PTSD (using the symptom part of the Harvard Trauma Questionnaire (HTQ) and 14.7% for moderate to severe depression (using the Beck Depression Inventory (BDI). Over 95% of the sample had experienced at least one traumatic event from the HTQ. Negative life events due to the war (i.e. social and financial problems) were associated with psychiatric morbidity. Other risk factors included female gender, trauma exposure, financial and social problems, older age, and marital status. Factors that protected against mental health problems include social support, good physical health, and employment. CB group therapy was effective in decreasing psychiatric symptoms, however further studies are needed to develop interventions using a psycho-social model.

Quality of Palliative Care in Lebanon; the Perspectives of Patients with Cancer

The purpose of this study is to evaluate the quality of life, symptom management, functional ability, and the quality of palliative care in adult Lebanese cancer patients.

Other researchers: Myrna Doumit, Hani Dimassi

Funding: Lebanese National Council for Scientific Research

Status: Completed

Results: A total of 200 cancer patients participated in the study; the majority was female with breast cancer and mean age 54. A fair quality of life and social functioning with high prevalence of physical and psychological symptoms was found. The cognitive functioning domain of the Quality of Life scale was found to have the highest score; social functioning had the lowest score. The most prevalent symptom was lack of energy and the least prevalent was shortness of breath. Nausea and pain were the symptoms mostly treated. Inadequate symptom management was reported especially for psychological symptoms. Participants reported a satisfactory level with the quality of care.

Family Experiences with Palliative Care Services of Children with Cancer in Lebanon

The purpose of the study is to explore the experiences of families living with a child with cancer and receiving palliative care in Lebanon.

Co-Investigators: Huda Abu-Saad Huijer and Myrna Doumit

Status: Completed submitted for publication

Results: The qualitative study followed purposeful sampling and saturation principles in which 12 parents (mother or father) of a child with cancer were interviewed. Data were analyzed following hermeneutical process as described by Diekelmann and Ironsides (1998).

Results: Five themes and a constitutive pattern "It is a continuous battle" emerged from the data analysis. Living with the shock of the diagnosis; changes in the family life pattern; a change in the family quality of living conditions; changes in the family life pattern with added responsibility; changes in the family dynamics; sibling's rivalry and couple's relationship changes; living with uncertainty.

- Dr. Samar Nouredine was inducted as International Fellow of the American Heart Association, November 15, 2011, at the Science sessions meeting in Orlando, Florida.

IX. CONFERENCES

- HSON hosted two events during MEMA: 1) Dr. Huda Abu-Saad Huijjer organized a conference to launch a National Task Force on Pain Relief and Palliative Care under the presidency of Dr. Walid Ammar and vice presidencies of Drs. Huda Abu-Saad Huijjer & Michel Daher; and 2) Dr. Samar Nouredine organized a workshop on Heart Failure.
- HSON launched the Lancet Report on Health Professionals for the 21st Century on May 20, 2011 with FHS and FM. Drs. H. Zurayk, K. Badr, and H. Huijjer were members of the steering committee that led discussions about inter-professional education emphasizing institutional and instructional reforms, with deans, associate deans, and key faculty from schools of medicine, nursing, and public health in Lebanon.

X. INTERNATIONAL PARTNERSHIPS

- HSON signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) with the University of Maryland School of Nursing involving student and faculty exchange and research collaboration in May 2011.
- HSON currently has MOUs with Johns Hopkins University School of Nursing; University of Michigan School of Nursing; and Villanova University College of Nursing.

XI. SIGMA THETA TAU INTERNATIONAL (STTI) Honor Society

- The School of Nursing established a Sigma Theta Tau Honor Society at AUB. It held an informational meeting in 2010, which was attended by 80 students and HSON graduates as well as nurse leaders in the country. A task force was appointed and is currently working on by-laws, membership and selection criteria, and on the first induction ceremony to the honor society, which will take place January 27, 2012.
- The HSON and the newly established Honor Society in Nursing at AUB hosted their first scientific activity with a lecture on ‘Correlates and Predictors of Residents’ Quality of Life in Long Term Care Facilities in Canada’ by HSON alumnus Dr. Vahe Kehyayan.

XII. HSON NEWSLETTER

- The HSON published the second edition of its newsletter in summer 2011.
- The newsletter, which is led by the members of the newsletter task force and editorial board, covers a wide variety of topics of potential interest to HSON students, alumni, and the general public such as news, events, HSON achievements, introductions of new faculty and staff, innovations in education including simulation technologies, faculty research and scholarly productivity, student academic and extracurricular activities.
- The newsletter also honors the contributions of retiring and departing HSON faculty.

XIII. ACHIEVING FACULTY STATUS FOR HSON

The AUB Board of Trustees Committee on Medicine and Health met at HSON on February 16, 2010 to discuss HSON’s proposal to become an independent AUB faculty. The proposal was subsequently revised to include a business plan and resubmitted in DATE. On Date, the Board of Trustees approved a transitional period during which HSON will function autonomously:

- Huda Abu-Saad Huijer was invited to serve as ex-officio on the Board of Deans in June 2011.
- HSON is now handling the processing of all HSON appointments, reappointments, & promotions.
- HSON is managing its own budget and has been authorized to use any surplus monies for HSON scholarships and program development.
- HSON has developed a new organizational structure, which was approved and will be implemented.

XIV. LOOKING AHEAD

- HSON is preparing for the accreditation self-study which will be submitted in March 2012. The accreditation site visit is planned for May 2012.
- HSON plans to launch a number of new academic programs:
 - Accelerated BA/BS-BSN (second degree) will be launched if there are a sufficient number of applicants. There will be promotional campaigns in Lebanon and the region to publicize the new degree program.
 - Postgraduate certificates in community nursing, critical care nursing leadership and management, and nursing informatics were developed and will be launched in 2011-2012.
 - HSON will launch the MSN pediatrics track if there are a sufficient number of applicants. HSON is currently recruiting PhD prepared faculty with expertise in pediatric nursing.
 - Collaborative PhD program with Johns Hopkins University is still awaiting funding. HSON is currently exploring the possibility of developing an interdisciplinary PhD degree program with AUB's Faculty of Medicine and Faculty of Health Sciences.
- Summer Nursing Institute: HSON will continue to collaborate with partners in the United States and with experts in the region and in Lebanon to offer high-quality courses on special topics. These courses are open to our MSN students and other participants from Lebanon and the region.
- HSON plans to continue offering post-basic courses and workshops addressing clinical, research, and management issues as needed.
- Student recruitment will continue to be a priority. The HSON awarded 20 merit scholarships this year and is currently working to secure additional financial support in the form of scholarships, financial aid, and bursaries for BSN students.
- The recruitment of an endowed chair to direct HSON's Center for Nursing Research will continue to be a priority. We are hoping to work with AUBMC and the Faculty of Medicine to strengthen this effort.
- Collaboration with AUBMC/Nursing Services continues to be an important priority for HSON. A large number of joint appointments have been approved effective fall 2011.
