Collection Title: Bayard Dodge Collection, 1895-1972.

Collection Dates: The bulk of the collection dates between 1895 and 1972

Physical Description: 12.4 linear feet (37 Document boxes)

Abstract: Bayard Dodge (1888 - 1972) was the third President of the American University of Beirut, (1923-1943). After his retirement from AUB, he taught at Columbia and Princeton University and at the American University of Cairo. Among his scholarly interests were the history of the ancient world and religions, subjects which he frequently lectured on, both in his courses and publicly. Dr. Dodge was also a scholar of Islamic and Middle Eastern studies, and a leading expert in the field: he published two seminal works, namely, a study on Al-Azhar entitled Al-Azhar, A Millennium of Muslim Learning (Middle East Institute, Cairo, Egypt, 1961) and an English translation of the Arabic Manuscript Fihrist of Ibn al- Nadim (Columbia University Press, New York, 1970), both of which are still considered classic references in the field.

Language(s): English and Arabic.

Biographical Sketch

Bayard Dodge was born in New York City, in 1883. He received his primary education at a private school in New York, and then enrolled at Princeton University, where he received a B.A. in 1909. He pursued his graduate studies at Columbia University, where he earned an M.A. in 1913; he then enrolled at the Union Theological Seminary where he received a Doctor of Divinity but was never ordained as a Minister. In 1913, he moved to Beirut, and joined the Syrian Protestant College as Director of West Hall, a state-of-the-art student center, which was then still under construction with funds supplied in part by his father, David Dodge. In 1914, West Hall was completed, and Bayard Dodge assumed his full responsibilities as its Director. The same year, he married Ms. Mary Bliss, the daughter of Howard Bliss (second President of the Syrian Protestant College). Bayard Dodge was inaugurated as the third President of the University on June 28, 1923, following the University's Commencement exercises. Dodge retired from his functions at the University in 1948, having served AUB for twenty-five years, with the utmost distinction and dedication, especially during the challenging times of WWII. Dodge also engaged in numerous philanthropic acts towards the University, and often, did so anonymously.

In recognition of his work, both in peace and in war, the Occidental College, California, awarded him the Doctor of Laws (LL.D) degree. Lebanon and other countries decorated him with medals of distinction. Dodge died on May 30, 1972.
