Series II: Photos, 1923-[1950s]

Biographical Sketch

Hussam Eddine Khalil Hussami, born in Beirut, Lebanon, 1908. He graduated from the Preparatory School of the American University of Beirut in 1924, then from the American University of Beirut as a Doctor of Dentistry and Surgery in 1929. During his time at AUB he played with the AUB varsity between 1927 and 1929. After graduation he started his professional life in Damascus where he registered his Degree at the Health Department in Damascus December 5, 1929. That year he played against AUB Varsity in Damascus. He got a work permit from the Lebanese authorities in August 1950. Some news about Dr. Husami is available in AL Kulliyah, alumni magazine, which reveals his commitment to the AUB varsity, his visits to Beirut, his presence at AUB commencement ceremony of 1931 and the death of his father Khalil Ibrahim Husami in 1933.

Dr. Hussam Husami married Nizar Monah El-Solh in 1950; they had one son Ghassan. Dr. Husami practiced dentistry in Damascus, 1929-1932; then in Palestine, 1933-1939; then in Beirut, 1940-1972, he had a contract with the Lebanese Army as a doctor of dental surgery, 1950-1959. His first clinic in Beirut was on Damascus Road, Nasrah, later he moved in 1954 to el-Mazraa, Beirut, where he practiced dentistry until he retired in 1972. He passed away in December 1981.
