Historical Sketch

In 1910, AUB introduced dental education to Lebanon by founding the first dental school in the Near East region. When the school started, Dr. Arthur Dray was its only professor and Dr. Amin Haddad his only assistant. It had no building nor proper equipment. At the memorial service for Dr. Dray on October 12, 1926, Dr. Iskandar Nasif stated: "At present, it has a fine building, an up-to-date equipment, and a well-chosen faculty." AUB's President Dodge announced "for the first time the good news of the recognition of our Dental degree by the Board of Regents of the State of New York, and that the school is a "Class 'A' school ranked on the same level with any class 'A' schools in the United States of America."
